In this first email, I want to begin with a little background to the publication of the Sanctuary book which you all have received. In the early part of the year 2019, I had an experience which I have never had before and haven’t had since. I was standing in my living room looking out of the large glass window when suddenly some force pushed me across the living room with my head heading toward the stone fireplace. I couldn’t control my fall and it seemed my head was about to impact on the stonework of the fireplace. However, when I landed, my head was a few inches short of the stonework, or I probably wouldn’t be here to write this newsletter.

I couldn’t account for this frightening experience. But I thanked the Lord that my head didn’t impact on the stone of the fireplace. However, that wasn’t the end of my strange experiences. A few nights later, when I tried to get out of bed by putting my feet over the side of the bed and trying to prop myself up into a sitting position, a strange force kept pushing me back down onto the bed. Try as I would, I kept being pushed back down several times before I was finally able to sit up on the side of the bed. This occurred on several occasions and I kept wondering why this was happening to me. Why was the Lord allowing Satan to harass me like that? But I began to understand a few weeks later, after I published my Sanctuary book. There were some things developing at that time of which I had no clue, but they were what influenced me to begin printing the books and advertising it on my website. Satan must have seen what was developing and thought to prevent it by destroying me or destroying my capacity to do what I have been doing.

At the time I was being harassed, there was a middle aged SDA man who had just moved into an apartment vacated by another SDA. For some reason, the former renter had left a copy of the Sanctuary book in the apartment when he vacated. It was one of my home bound books which someone must have given to him. Perhaps he didn’t appreciate it and just left it when he moved out. The man who found it when he moved in had been out of the church for almost 20 years, but had come back and been rebaptized about a year earlier. When he found the book, he became curious because there was no author’s name on it, and no publishing house that printed it. He surmised that this book wasn’t written to make one rich or famous and so he decided to read it.

After reading it, he became so impressed with what he read, he contacted the man who had left the book in the apartment to find out if he knew who had written the book. The man told him he didn’t know for sure, but he thought it was someone in the church where my wife and I attend. He was a member in a neighboring church, but one Sabbath he came to our church to find out who had written the book. I was standing near the exit door when this man came walking into the church with the Sanctuary book in his hand. He asked another gentleman if he knew who had written the book. He said that it answered every question he ever had about the salvation process and the preparation for the close of probation and Christ’s second coming.
I was amazed when I listened to his testimony. I finally told him that I was the author. He was delighted to find out who it was that had written the book, and related his experience in finding the book in the apartment and what it had done for his spiritual experience. This was the first time I had ever heard such a testimony regarding my book.

The following Sabbath, as I was getting out of my vehicle to go into the church, a lady from a more distant church had just pulled in and came over to talk to me and my wife. I didn’t know that she was a friend of the man who had found my book in his apartment and that he had loaned her the book for the week. As she approached to talk to us, to my surprise she had my Sanctuary book in her hand and of the same vintage as the first man’s. She also was very interested in the book and asked if I had more books she could have to give to some other people who were very interested.

After these two incidents, I felt the Lord was telling me it was time to begin printing the book by a professional printer and make it available to whoever would like to read it. So in late May I decided to print 200 spiral coil back books, thinking that would probably be adequate to fill all the requests. I posted an ad on my mystery finished website. I was disappointed that there were only a few requests. The first request came from Lily Hughes who I had never met personally, but I knew of her through Fulcrum 7. She was very enthused about the book and began urging the readers on Fulcrum to get the book. She had asked me to send her multiple copies of books so she could send them to anyone who requested it. The requests began to trickle in, but the trickle began to be a stream and then it became a rushing stream. Things began to develop beyond all expectations.

By July it became obvious that Lily could not handle all the mailing out of the books. Then I learned of Sandra in Arizona who had read the book and was inspired enough to request multiple copies to pass on to other people. Lily and I decided that we should ask Sandra if she would be willing to help as another distributor of the books. What we didn’t know, but the Lord did, that Sandra was an experienced office manager and mass mailout expert. Sandra accepted the call very willingly and what a blessing she has been to this book ministry. She has at times sent out nearly a hundred books in a day, which is no small accomplishment. Sandra also handles all the donations that are coming in from people who appreciate the book. Her email is sjakubowicz@msn.com

The Lord knew just what was needed. In Lily He provided this ministry with a very dedicated and able communicator as a frontline point of contact. She is the one the Lord used to get this whole project going, and she is still contributing to its advancement. And in Sandra, the Lord provided the office and managerial help that was needed to facilitate the sending out of books and managing the financial accounts of all the donations that are beginning to come in.

As the work continued to grow, we decided there was a need for another distributor to assist Sandra when the volume of requests became too heavy for one person. Sandra suggested someone living in Florida who seemed enthused about the message. So I contacted her and asked her if she would consider becoming a distributor for the eastern part of the U.S. Her reply was that she would be delighted to help in the Lord’s work and so she is another hub in the book ministry for which I am very thankful. None of the people involved in this ministry get any pay for their valuable service. With them it is a labor of love, and that is much appreciated.

In the month of July I received some requests for the Sanctuary book from far off Australia. Somehow the news of this newly published book reached the shores of that country as well. The requests were for multiple copies to be used for group studies. It was encouraging to know that there were groups of people getting together to study the sanctuary and especially Christ’s closing work in the most holy place. It is very expensive to mail books to Australia, so I suggested to some of the correspondents that it would be good if they could print the book in their own country. I offered to pay for the initial printing if they could manage the mail out of the books as requests came in. I was very glad to get an email from a group of faithful SDA’s in Alice Springs headed by Dr. Isaac Menge who were ready to take on the task of printing the Sanctuary book in their own country. For those living in Australia, you can contact him regarding receiving a book by using the following email address: muhuri.gacheche@gmail.com. They have made a new book cover with some attractive graphics. We hope and pray that there will be a spiritual revival in Australia and that many people will reach out for the book which points God’s people to the most holy place where Jesus is ministering on our behalf.

There have been numerous testimonials coming in from people who have experienced a spiritual stirring and revival as a result of reading the book. Many people have requested multiple copies of the books to share with their fellow church members. That is the way the work has grown. There is no visible leader in this book project, but the Lord is directing individuals to share the truth with others and who in turn have shared with still others. But we know that the enemy of souls is aroused to renewed activity when he sees a spiritual revival taking place among God’s people. Perhaps I was the first to experience the enmity of the prince of darkness.

Back in the autumn of 2018, my local church pastor asked me to take over the prayer meetings because, as he put it, “People are getting too much of me.” I complied with his request and began studying the prophecies of Daniel and Revelation. We hadn’t had any real studies on the prophecies of last day events, and the studies drew more people to prayer meeting. In a few weeks the number of people tripled, for which I thanked the Lord. I continued with the prayer meeting studies into the new year of 2019. When I was made aware that there were people who had somehow gotten hold of my Sanctuary book and were experiencing a spiritual renewal, I decided to begin using the book for my prayer meeting studies. There was a real interest in the subject covered in the book, and when I made the books available after the prayer meetings, many people picked up multiple books to send to friends and relatives. The presence of the Holy Spirit was manifest in our studies on the sanctuary.

In late June we received a new pastor whom we had never met before. I’m always a little apprehensive when a new pastor moves into the district, not knowing what his theology is. So I didn’t know how he would react to my prayer meeting studies. For the first few weeks he was too busy to attend the prayer meetings. However, he showed up at our prayer meeting in the middle of July, but just listened and didn’t say a word. The next prayer meeting he came again, but this time he began to voice his objections to what I was teaching.

The pastor didn’t look very pleased by what I read from Early Writings, but he said no more for the rest of the prayer meeting. However, he came to me as I was leaving and informed me that he was cancelling prayer meetings after camp meeting, which was another week away. As it turned out, there was no prayer meeting conducted until five weeks after camp meeting. The pastor took an extended vacation after the end of camp meeting.

A few days after my prayer meetings were cancelled, I received a phone call from the pastor asking to have a visit with me. I told him I would be glad to do that, but I was going to have some other people with me. I asked three of the regular prayer meeting attendees to be with me as witnesses to what was discussed. I did not want the pastor’s version of what happened during our visit to be promulgated without having some witnesses who could verify what really happened. The pastor also brought the head elder and his wife to the visit, which took place in the church. After offering a prayer, the pastor told us that the church does not approve of the teachings in my book. Someone had given him the book before he came to my prayer meeting studies. He said that he didn’t want these things taught in the church because it was not approved. One of the people I brought with me immediately asked the pastor what was wrong with the teaching. She said it was important present truth which we need at this time to prepare for the Lord’s coming. Another one showed the pastor his baptismal certificate and told him that his baptismal vows at his baptism were to uphold the truth that God had committed to the church, truths which he was denying.

The pastor said that the church had put out several books against the last generation theology which he felt I was teaching and therefore he didn’t want it taught in the church. I finally asked him what specifically it was that the church objected to. He said it was their view on perfection. That seems to be the main point of contention. It was amazing to see how a pastor of our church could slide from position to position in trying to defend the errors propounded by the theologians of our church. It was also amazing to see how truth makes manifest the weakness of error when the two come into conflict. We saw demonstrated what we read in Testimony to Ministers, p. 112: “When the shaking comes, by the introduction of false theories, these surface readers, anchored nowhere, are like shifting sand. They slide into any position to suit the tenor of their feelings of bitterness.”

The pastor’s opposition has had its negative effect on some in my prayer meeting group. Several have become confused and some have turned away. After I was forbidden to continue prayer meetings in the church, I decided to continue with the studies in my home. A few have chosen not to come to the studies anymore, which makes me sad. But we have to be reminded that we are in the shaking, sitting time and we must not be surprised at the falling away of some because they have not been grounded in the truth. What makes this falling away more serious is that they have gone back from following Christ in the most holy place and have joined those who are worshipping in the first apartment where the power and presence of God is lacking and Satan has taken charge. I do not know if those who do that will ever find their way back to worshipping Christ in the most holy place. We can only pray that they will yet recover from the deceiving influence that holds people in deception.

The Lord has given evidence of His guidance and blessing on the message which is pointing the minds of God’s people to Christ’s closing work in the heavenly sanctuary. I have seen the fulfillment of what it says in Testimonies to Ministers p. 300, which reads, “Let me tell you that the Lord will work in this last work in a manner very much out of the common order of things, and in a way that will be contrary to any human planning... God will use ways and means by which it will be seen that He is taking the reins in His own hands. The workers will be surprised by the simple means that He will use to bring about and perfect His work of righteousness.”
What has been accomplished in the past few months is truly amazing. The Lord certainly has used simple means to advance His work. There hasn’t been any human organization or controlling influence in what has been happening. Yet we have had much evidence of the influence of the Holy Spirit in this book project, And testimonials from people who have shared their experiences of how the message of the Sanctuary book has impacted their spiritual lives. One reader stated “The Sanctuary, The Atonement, The Fit Man,— what a blessing this book has been. . . To say that I am reevaluating what I have formerly understood concerning the Sanctuary would be a gross understatement. I will finish the final chapter and begin my second reading during Sabbath hours. Praise God for His amazing Truths and for those He uses to bring those Truths to light. “

Another one wrote, “Two of the head elders in my mom’s church just love the books. Each has ordered 25 books. . . One of them told my mom that the church is on fire because of my mom and me giving them the books. Praise God! “

Another testimony says, “I have just finished reading your book, The Sanctuary, The Atonement, The Fit Man, and I am excited to share this timely message with my home church group. A friend of mine from ___ handed me a copy a few weeks ago when I was visiting a church in ____ What a tremendous blessing it has been! I have studied these things and God has been doing this cleansing work in me for sometime now, but the cleansing of the subconscious mind has never occurred to me. Thank you so much for offering this wonderful, clear, inspirational study to us! It would be a blessing to obtain at least 10 copies of the book to share with others.”

There also have been instances where the Lord has worked little miracles to facilitate the work. I mentioned previously about Sandra in Arizona being the main hub in the distribution of the books throughout the U.S.
Near the end of August, Sandra was completely out of books. It was on a Friday morning, August 30, that I received an email from her telling me that she didn’t have any more books to give out. I had anticipated beforehand that she might be running low, so on August 26, I had shipped two boxes of books with a total of 104 books. Sending the books from Canada takes 9 or 10 days to arrive in Arizona. When I received the email from Sandra, I did a post office tracking to see when the shipment of books would arrive. It indicated that the shipment would arrive on September 4, so I emailed her back to let her know that the books would’n’t arrive until Wednesday, September 4. It was unfortunate, but there wasn’t anything I could do to hurry things up. However, to my surprise, I received another email from Sandra a few hours later telling me that the books had arrived. All I could tell her was that it had to be a miracle. I couldn’t account for it in any other way.

When the books arrived 5 days early, Sandra began to wonder why the Lord had performed this little miracle. I will quote her own words: “Yesterday, when I received two boxes of the Sanctuary book I knew it was a miracle from the Lord. Anxious to discover why the shipment arrived 4-5 days early I prayed, ‘Lord, why do I need these books today?’ Late Friday I received a call from a church member and she said another mem-er told her that the Sanctuary book changed his life and wanted to get two more books. I let her know I would have two tomorrow at church.” But that was not the end of the story.

She told how she had been using the Sanctuary book for her Sabbath School class while the main teacher, a retired pastor, was away for 5-6 weeks. She thought it might be risky but she moved ahead anyway. She was prepared to teach the class Sabbath morning when, unexpectedly, the retired pastor showed up at church. He asked her if she had a lesson planned and so she gave him a copy of the sanctuary book. Instead of questioning why this book was being used instead of the regular quarterly, he became excited about the subject of the book and went right into teaching about the sanctuary. The class members showed him where they had left off last time and the pastor picked up where they had left off and taught the class from it. At the end of the class he told them that they would continue with the next section the following Sabbath. Sandra concluded by saying, “I knew the Lord had blessed the class, and the retired pastor and myself in a most amazing way. This is why the books came early and with a blessing I could not have expected when I was out of inventory Friday morning.”

I could write many pages about how the Lord is blessing in the distribution of the book, and how many people He inspired to share these momentous truths with others. Another retired pastor has contacted scores of people that he has worked with or knows personally. He and His wife are carrying the message with them to all the gatherings and conventions which they attend. We just pray that the Holy Spirit will water the seed sown. We can see how God is using simple means to perfect His work of righteousness. The Lord impressed Lily to get the book and read it and then to urge other people to get it and read it. Through this simple means, thousands of people have been given the grand truths which will prepare people for the close of probation and the coming of Christ.

There are some momentous truths shining out from the most holy place which almost boggle the mind. Two things that are revealed by the truths of the most holy place are: the pernicious, degrading nature of sin and how it affects the mind, and the marvelous power of the redemption purchased for us on Calvary which will completely undo all the terrible damage that sin has done to human nature. And the pressing question in the minds of the unfallen worlds is whether redeemed sinners will be safe in the world to come from ever falling back into sin. God has promised in Nahum 1:9 that “affliction shall not rise up the second time.” But what assurance do they have that sin and rebellion will not happen again? Sin began in heaven over the law of God and whether it can be kept perfectly. Lucifer raised many questions and doubts over the laws of God’s government and in doing that he also raised doubts about the character of God, because the law is a transcript of His character.

When one third of the angels of heaven sided with Lucifer, it gave apparent credence to his claims about the law of God. And the onlooking universe was not able to answer all the questions and doubts that he had raised in their minds. And when man sided with Lucifer at the forbidden tree, it gave Lucifer further backing to his claims against God’s law. He could point to the fact that one third of the angels couldn’t keep God’s law and since the fall, none of earth’s inhabitants have kept it perfectly. Angelic perfection had failed in heaven and human perfection had failed in Eden. God’s very character and the laws by which he governed the universe were now thrown in a bad light. If a University professor makes up a test paper for his students and most of them fail the exam, there will be serious questions raised whether the exam was too severe or faulty in some way. Thus Lucifer argued that the law of God is too severe and that is why so many are unable to keep it.

To counter the allegations of Satan, the second person of the Godhead came down to this sin-cursed earth to magnify the law and make it honorable and to show that it can be obeyed perfectly in fallen human nature. He showed that fallen human beings can, through the mighty power of the Holy Spirit, perfectly obey all of God’s commandments. He showed that there is no excuse for sinning. Grace has been provided to keep from sinning. But what Christ was not able to prove was that redeemed sinners who had fallen into sin can be so fully rehabilitated that they will never fall back into sin. He would have to become a sinner to do that. But then He could not be a spotless Lamb to take away the sins of the world. He has had some illustrious followers like the heroes of faith depicted in Hebrews 11 who proved loyal to God and His laws even in the face of death and torture. Yet none of them were secure from falling back into sin. Noah and Abraham and Moses and Elijah were mighty men of God, but even they needed an intercessor to pardon their transgressions at times. They were not eternally secure against falling back into sin in a moment of weakness.

So the great, over-riding question facing the unfallen worlds is whether redeemed sinners will be safe in the next world from lapsing back into sin again. That hasn’t been demonstrated yet. How will God’s promise that affliction shall not rise up the second time be realized while He continues to grant freedom of will to all intelligent beings, including those who come from planet earth? How secure will they be from starting another defection?

Christ has made some seemingly very dangerous promises to those fallen human beings who have been fully redeemed by the blood of the Lamb. In the judgment “The divine Intercessor presents the plea that all who have overcome through faith in His blood be forgiven their transgressions, that they be restored to their Eden home, and crowned as joint heirs with Himself to “the first dominion “ Great Controversy p. 484. And as if being a joint heir with himself to the first dominion was not enough, He makes this mind-boggling promise: “ To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with Me in My throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with My Father in His throne “ Revelation 3:21.

It must seem a very hazardous thing to the loyal universe to place former sinners and rebels against the laws of God’s government in such positions of highest authority in the hereafter. They will occupy the position that Lucifer aspired to gain when he rebelled in heaven and determined to exalt himself to sit on God’s throne. Lucifer was a perfect sinless angel before that happened. But he wasn’t secure from rebelling against the government of heaven. How secure will they be who have at one time been in rebellion against God’s law, from reverting back to their former ways?

All these doubts and questions will be answered by the 144,000, the ‘fit man’ who has experienced the completion of Christ’s work of redemption in the most holy place. The ‘fit man’ will prove whether fully redeemed sinners are safe to occupy positions of the highest authority in the heavenly world. Every question, every doubt that has been raised by Lucifer since his defection will be fully and decisively answered by the 144,000. They will live on this sin-cursed world without a mediator, surrounded by evil angels and evil men who are bent on their destruction. There is no more forgiveness for them if they should fail in their loyalty to God. And one sin in any one of them would spoil Christ’s plan to prove that His law can be perfectly obeyed, even under the most discouraging circumstances that will exist during the time of trouble. But not one of them will fail the test. Christ’s experiment with fully redeemed sinners will prove 100% successful.

We read of it in Testimonies to Ministers, p. 18. “ The Lord Jesus is making experiments on human hearts through the exhibition of His mercy and abundant grace. He is effecting transformations so amazing that Satan, with all his triumphant boasting, with all his confederacy of evil united against God and the laws of His government, stands viewing them as a fortress impregnable to his sophistries and delusions. They are to him an incomprehensible mystery.“

Christ’s experiment will reach its full realization when the remnant have experienced Acts 3:19— the blotting out of sins and the infilling with the refreshing latter rain. Great Controversy p. 485 tells us that “ Thus will be realized the complete fulfillment of the new-covenant promise: “I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.” “In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found.” Jeremiah 31:34; 50:20. “In that day shall the branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel. And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even everyone that is written among the living in Jerusalem. “

The vindication of God’s character will be so complete that even Satan will eventually bow down and confess that God is right and just in all that He has done. It was for the purpose of bringing the great controversy to a close by exhibiting the marvelous transformation accomplished through the blood of the atonement that God raised up the Advent movement. He gave us the Third Angel’s message to show the way to become the ‘fit man’ who would so fully vindicate God’s character and law that the whole universe will have the assurance that affliction will not rise up the second time. He tells us, “I have put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people “ Isaiah 51:16. Christ will have a secure universe.

As Laodiceans we have been blind to the reason for our existence as a movement and the magnitude of the issues at stake in the great controversy. We have been blind to our high calling and the grand and glorious commission given us to bring this terrible nightmare of sin and rebellion to an end.

Christ’s longing desire for us is “That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him: The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power “ Ephesians 1:17-19.

We need to appreciate the fact that we are born to a special point of privilege in time, and have been given a revelation of the special truth whose time has come. Christ is depending on His people in these last days to vindicate His name and His law before the onlooking universe. In closing, let us ponder the following pertinent passage from Inspiration. “I saw that we are the only people upon earth from whom God is to get glory, and if we should hold our peace the very stones would cry out, for God must receive glory from some of those who dwell upon the earth. The only company who can praise and honor God, I saw, are those who are keeping the commandments of God and have the faith of Jesus “ 5 Manuscript Release Volume 5, p. 201.

P.S. I want to thank those who have contributed funds to help pay for the printing and mailing out of books. We would like to continue to offer the books free of charge. As the number of books in demand continues to grow, we will be needing regular donations to meet the expense. At the present time we are able to get the books printed at about $3.00 per book, U.S. funds. The shipping or mailing costs will add to the total expense. So it would be a real help if we could have some monthly or bi-monthly contributors so we will know how many books we can print at the next printing. Up to now, I have financed the printing and mailing costs of the books from my personal savings, but this work is getting too big for me to continue financing it alone. Those who are willing and able to help, you can mail your checks to SAF Project, P.O. box 52098, Mesa, AZ 85208. For wire transfers, use 026009593 and ACH 122101706.

Thank you for considering this appeal, and may the God of peace guide you in these days of peril, and preserve you blameless for His coming. Sincerely yours in Christ, Floyd Sayler
